About Me

I'm a sophomore at UIT KU pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science with a growing interest in cybersecurity. I have a solid foundation in HTML, CSS, Python, and DBMS, and I'm actively expanding my technical skill set. I'm particularly interested in cybersecurity, data analysis, and using technology to solve real-world problems.

Alongside my technical skills, I also have experience in social media content creation, which has helped me build creativity, digital communication skills, and an understanding of online engagement strategies.

My goal is to build a career in cybersecurity where I can identify vulnerabilities, protect systems, and contribute to developing secure digital environments through hands-on projects and continuous learning.
